

CONGRATULATIONS

THE TITLE fib HONORARY LIFE MEMBER HAS BEEN CONFERRED TO VYACHESLAV RUVIMOVICH
FALIKMAN

The member of Editorial Board of electronic edition «Nanotechnologies In Construction: A Scientific Internet-Journal» 1st vice-president of Structural Concrete Association, Academician of RAE and IAE, Regional Convener of International Union of Laboratories and Experts in Construction Materials, Systems and Structures (RILEM) in East Europe and Central Asia, Member of Technical Committee of American Concrete Institute ACI 241 «Nanotechnologies of Concrete», Professor of MSUCE, Doctor of Material Science and Engineering Vyacheslav Ruvimovich Falikman received the title «Honorable Tenured Member Of fib».

On the 11th of June 2017, Maastricht (The Netherlands) the General Assembly of the International Federation for Structural Concrete (fib) held secret vote in which 74 voters of 35 countries unanimously took the decision to confer title «Honorable Tenured Member Of fib» to Professor Falikman.

Before fib was established in 1998 by means of integration of European International Committee on Concrete (CEB) and International Federation On Prestressed Concrete (FIP) the Honorable Member of CEB had been Prof. A.A. Gvozdev, and the Honorable Member of FIP – Prof. K.V. Mikhailov.

It is the first time when one of the most authoritative specialized organization in the world appreciated so high the contribution of Russia to the development of reinforced concrete and creation of new codes to design it. The solemn ceremony took place on the 12 of June 2017 (it was the Day Of Russia!) at the opening of Symposium «High Tech Concrete: Where Technology and Engineering Meet».

The Editorial Council, Editorial Board and the Editors of the electronic edition «Nanotechnologies In Construction:
A Scientific Internet-Journal» congratulate Vyacheslav Ruvimovich Falikman on the high title and wish him sound health, well-being,
fortune and new creative success!
